GRAND JURY TAKES UP TASK

Will Probe Dry Law Enforcement in Lucas County.

LOCAL OFFICIALS ACCUSED

Investigation Follows Report of Assistant Attorney General Griswold on Conditions In Toledo and Lucas County—Enforcement Alleged by Griswold to Have Been Largely a Commercial Proposition.

Toledo, May 2.—The grand jury began an investigation of the enforcement of dry laws by justices of the peace throughout Lucas county.

The inquiry follows Assistant Attorney General Griswold's report to Attorney General Crabbe of his probe here. Griswold said in his report that enforcement was largely a commercial proposition and that many enforcement officers themselves were men of bad repute.

Other charges made by Griswold were: Searches were illegally made; pleas of guilty were secured by threats of federal court action; blank warrants were issued to enforcement officers; foreigners, ignorant of their rights, were taken advantage of. Griswold also said the constables and deputies waged a "contest" for "customers," which was particularly repulsive.

The inquiry was one of the results of charges made by Judge Killits and others and the ruling by Crabbe outlawing "card officers" and the split fee system.

Griswold in his report said: "Violators of the law were looked upon, not as offenders against the dignity of the state, but merely as sources of revenue, to be zealously guarded. Constables, marshals and deputies from the various courts indulged in a spirited contest with respect to their so-called rights in the matter of 'knocking off' their victims. This conflict became so severe at times that the jail matron complained of the commotion caused by these officers standing just outside the county jail and berating each other for 'knocking off' certain individuals from one court before those individuals had paid their fines in another court."

Many of the officers were men of bad repute and many of them known to be men with criminal records, the report also avers, citing testimony alleging a multitude of irregular and unlawful practices in connection with searchings and seizures, alleged "planting" of evidence on the property of prospective victims, exorbitant costs and fees and "the absolute disregard of the rights" of the victims.

The victims accordingly "got the impression that the attitude of the officers of the law was that a bootlegger had no rights which the officers were bound to respect."

Directing attention to evidence which tends to show that justices and mayors and their minions manipulated the charges against various defendants when the latter were "unable to pay the minimum fine under the prohibition act, together with the costs," changing the charge from that of possession to one of being drunk and disorderly. "In this case a fine of $10 and costs would be imposed and the fine immediately suspended. It is significant, however, that even in these cases a charge was made for transporting both the person and the evidence and the costs were invariably collected," the report declares.

STORM VICTIMS CARED FOR

Red Cross and Other Agencies Providing Food and Shelter.

Atlanta, Ga., May 2.—The Red Cross and other agencies are providing food, clothing and shelter for the victims of the storm that swept the southern states. Medical supplies were furnished for the injured and arrangements made to bury the dead.

The death list stood at 100, with additional reports of casualties arriving as lines of communication were re-established. The number of injured exceed 500. Property damage is in excess of $10,000,000.

The winds reached the height of their fury in South Carolina, having gained an advancing from the Mississippi states. The death list in South Carolina totaled 66. Large buildings collapsed before the gale. Men and women were picked up off the street, carried 200 yards and dashed to the ground.

Alabama had seven dead, North Carolina three, George four and scattered deaths were reported from Tennessee, Louisiana and Mississippi.

Explosion Kills Five.

Kansas City, May 2.—An oil tank at the Interstate refinery exploded, killing five men and injuring ten. Fire followed the blast and for a time threatened the entire manufacturing district. Bodies of men killed were thrown 100 feet into the air and nearly a block from the refinery. The concussion from the explosion knocked many workers to the ground.

Thaw at Mother's Home.

Pittsburgh, May 2.—Harry K. Thaw is at the home of his mother at Cresson, a suburb. Thaw, who was recently adjudged sane by a jury in Philadelphia, was accompanied by a guard from the asylum where he had been confined for the last seven years until he was paroled, pending the outcome of an appeal of his sanity case filed by his former wife.

CRABBE WILLING TO STEP ASIDE

Favors Burton for Republican Nomination for Governor.

WOULD AVERT WILD SCRAMBLE

Attorney General Declares He Would Join Republican Aspirants For the Ohio Gubernatorial Nomination In Withdrawing and Supporting Burton For Head of the Republican State Ticket.

Columbus, May 2.—Attorney General C. C. Crabbe, who arrived here today from Washington, confirmed the report that he would join the several Republican candidates for the Ohio gubernatorial nomination in withdrawing their names from consideration and supporting Representative Theodore E. Burton of Cleveland for head of the state ticket this year.

Crabbe indicated that unless Mr. Burton consented to run, he, Crabbe, would probably become a candidate. In a field of six or more seeking the nomination, he believes he stands as good a chance as any of landing it, Crabbe said.

"I don't want to see a wild scramble for the gubernatorial nomination. If all those who are now after it or expect to become candidates would step aside and let it go to Mr. Burton without a contest, I am sure the Republican ticket would be victorious in Ohio this year. Mr. Burton is a man of national distinction and highly qualified for the governorship. If he can be persuaded to run, I, for one, would gladly sacrifice any chance I might have for the nomination in the interest of party harmony and success in the November election."

Representative Burton, who has been chosen for temporary chairman of the Cleveland national convention, has frequently been urged to become a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, but has let it be known that he would consider it only in the event that he is assured there would be no contest and he would not be required to make a primary campaign.

Attorney General Crabbe left for Cleveland today at direction of Governor Donahey to start criminal prosecutions against officers of the defunct Municipal Savings and Loan company. On Saturday Crabbe will announce his selection of two special assistant attorneys general to conduct the grand jury investigation and handle all cases brought to trial.

TAX PROGRAM MENACED

Breach Noted In Ranks of Democratic Members of Senate.

Washington, May 2.—A break in the ranks of senate Democrats endangers the Democratic tax program, which they were confident they could force the senate to accept instead of the Mellon plan. The rift developed over the problem of tax exempt securities. A Democratic caucus was held at the capitol in an effort to swing into line five or six Democrats who are ready to go over to the Mellon plan.

The question that first caused Democratic defections is a provision inserted by Republicans to prevent millionaires from dodging their income tax obligations by buying tax exempt securities. Democratic leaders are fighting the provision on the ground that it will affect the tax exemption securities of every state and municipality of the nation by making such securities less desirable and forcing larger interest rates.

The Republican amendment would prevent any taxpayer from deducting under the heading of business losses and interest paid, any sum higher than the interest he received on tax exempt securities held by him.

Valuable Herd Destroyed.

San Francisco, May 2.—The Fred Hartzok herd of 366 animals, valued at $426,000, all Holsteins, which last year won 93 per cent of all the Holstein cattle awards in California, and included the former world's champion milch cow, Tillie Alcarta, was driven into a trench at Lankerstrum, Cal., shot down, covered with quicklime and buried. The herd was destroyed because of infection from the hoof and mouth disease now prevalent in California.

Dorothy Rodgers, 15, was arrested at Philadelphia after an attempted holdup in which her male companion escaped, following an exchange of shots with police. One policeman was seriously wounded.

DOINGS IN OHIO

Discusses Miller Act.

Columbus, May 2.—Judge William Barnum of Youngstown, one of the attorneys for former Police Chief James Watkins of Youngstown, who is seeking reversal of Governor Donahey's action in removing him last summer, told the Ohio supreme court that upon its interpretation of the so-called Miller act, creating a state prohibition department and enforcement officers and providing for the removal by the governor of officials who fail to enforce the law, depends the status of its members themselves, members of the state legislature and every other official in the state.

Probing Explosion.

Cleveland, May 2.—Police are investigating a mysterious explosion which wrecked an auto in front of Labor temple, injuring eight persons, including five officials of the Sheet Metal Workers' union. Police believe the blast was caused by enemies of the labor leaders placing an explosive in the car and attaching wires from the battery to it. When the car was started, according to the police theory, the electric current set off the explosive. William O'Brien and Joseph Nestor were seriously injured.

Supports Fire Fighters' Union.

Cleveland, May 2.—The Cleveland Federation of Labor will support the organized city fire fighters. It charged the administration with attempting to "wreck the union" and subscribe to the open shop policy. The controversy involves the rights of city firemen to organize and the recent suspension of the president of the union for disregarding Safety Director Barry's rule against organization in the department.

Would Revise Tax Law.

Cleveland, May 2.—The legislature will be asked to remedy evils of the present delinquent tax collection system, County Auditor John A. Zangerle said here. Because of the inefficient and cumbersome system under the present tax foreclosure law there are $3,800,000 in delinquent taxes outstanding in Cuyahoga county, Zangerle said. Some of these taxes have been due since 1918.

Generous Contributor.

Cleveland, May 2.—This city's fund for the relief of German children has been swelled to $41,660.41 by receipt of a check for $15,115.42 from "an anonymous lover of little children." According to an agreement, the person who sent the check will withdraw payment if his name is revealed.

Electric Car Men Strike.

Alliance, O., May 2.—Interurban conductors and motormen on the Stark Electric Railway, between Canton, Salem and Alliance, struck today when the old wage scale expired. The men asked a nine cent wage boost, while the company had announced a 10-cent cut.

Carmen's Demands Refused.

Akron, O., May 2.—Northern Ohio Traction and Light company has rejected the demands of its 1,000 motormen and conductors for a maximum wage of 70 cents an hour.

McCray In Prison.

Atlanta, Ga., May 2.—Warren T. McCray, former governor of Indiana, under 10 years' sentence for using the mails to defraud, arrived at the Atlanta federal prison with two guards. He was not handcuffed and walked along with his guards as though on a pleasure journey.

NAVY'S STRENGTH IS QUESTIONED

Congressional Inquiry Sought by Illinois Solon.

OFFERS RESOLUTION IN HOUSE

Step Taken as a Result of Rear Admiral Coontz's Report That the Navy Had Fallen Far Below Its Authorized Treaty Strength—Bill Would Authorize Elevation of Guns on First Line Ships.

Washington, May 2.—Representative Britten (Rep., Ill.) asked for a congressional inquiry into the condition of the United States navy.

Britten's resolution follows the report of Rear Admiral Coontz that the navy had shown in the joint maneuvers that it had fallen far below its authorized disarmament treaty strength. Britten, who is a member of the house naval affairs committee, declared he was asking an investigation by a house committee of the navy's strength. He also reintroduced a bill appropriating $6,000,000 for elevation of guns on a number of first line ships. He said this was the same proposal made by the secretary of the navy last year, but rejected by the house appropriations committee.

The United States naval forces are far below the 5-5-3 ratio set by the arms conference treaty, according to the report by Admiral Coontz, commander-in-chief of the fleet. Slowness of auxiliary craft making it impossible for the fleet to maneuver as a unit at a speed of 10 knots and the complete failure of submarines to function in fleet work, were the most startling conditions disclosed in the report.

Admiral Coontz recommended the construction of aircraft carriers, submarine and destroyer tenders, new cruisers, modern submarines and airplanes for fleet use. He also urged modernization of eight old battleships by increasing the elevation of turret guns to put the American fleet on a parity with the fleets of Great Britain and Japan.

The most alarming condition revealed was in submarine operations. The report stated that many of the underwater craft are obsolete in design, with poor ventilation. All submarines were said to be unreliable and of small use to the fleet because of their lack of speed.

FAVOR ENFORCEMENT OF VOLSTEAD ACT

Methodists to Pass Upon Important Issues This Year.

Springfield, Mass., May 2.—At the 34th quadrennial meeting of the Methodist general conference, Bishop Joseph J. Berry presiding, Raymond J. Wade was elected general secretary.

A resolution was introduced by Charles A. Pollock of Fargo N. D., memorializing congress in behalf of enforcement of the Volstead act. A committee of five, including two bishops, was appointed to wait on congress.

During discussion Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler was roundly denounced during debate on the memorial because of his statements against the amendment. Butler is quoted in a speech in New York as having alluded to the amendment as an unenforceable one and "those who persist in supporting it must accept responsibility of being silent partners of the bootlegger."

Issues to come before the conference include world peace, relation between capital and labor, uniting of the northern and southern branches of the church, limitation of terms of bishops now appointed for life, and revision of the discipline which still bans dancing, card playing and theater-going.

HERE AND THERE

Three men and two women died within 48 hours at Buffalo from wood alcohol. Police are probing the sale of the poison booze.

New York Central lines granted a 5 per cent wage increase to about 15,000 men of the Brotherhood of Railway Engineers and Firemen.

INCREASES LEAD

Coolidge Now Has 150,000 Majority Over Hiram Johnson.

Columbus, May 2.—Returns from nearly every precinct in the state revealed that President Coolidge increased his lead to 150,000 votes over Senator Hiram Johnson in the Ohio presidential preference primary. Former Governor Cox's lead over William G. McAdoo, on returns from the same number of precincts, was more than 43,500. The totals, with a number of precincts still to be heard from, are: Coolidge, 165,854; Johnson, 26,549. Cox, 70,602; McAdoo, 27,058.

The total vote cast at the primary will probably not exceed 315,000, nearly 32,000 votes less than was polled in the 1920 presidential primary, when women were not voting. Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general, latest returns show, is nearly 6,000 votes below the next Coolidge candidate, Mrs. John G. Battelle, Columbus. The former attorney general, however, has increased his lead over George H. Bender, Cleveland, the high Johnson candidate, to nearly 83,000 votes.

AVIATOR AGAIN MISSING

Search Instituted for Commander of American Flyers.

Sitka, Alaska, May 2.—Major Frederick L. Martin, commander of the American round-the-world airplane flight, is again among the missing. When no word had been received from the aviator since he hopped off Chignik for Dutch Harbor, Unalaska, the search was ordered. The coast guard cutter Algonquin, patrolling the route between Chignik and Dutch harbor along which Martin was to fly, radioed a request to Chignik for all boats of the Salmon cannery fleet making headquarters there to take up the search. The navy radio broadcast a call for all ships in the vicinity to watch for the missing flyer.

The cannery station at King Cove, between Chignik and Dutch Harbor, reported that no sign of Martin had been seen in that vicinity.

Four Wounded In Gun Battle.

Pittsburgh, May 2.—John Welrey of Toledo is dying and three employes of a Sharpsburg saloon were wounded as the result of a gun battle, when Welrey and a companion attempted to hold up the saloon. The other robber escaped.

Cradle Boards.

There are nine different kinds of cradle boards used by the various tribes of North American Indians. The Eskimos did not use such a board. The baby was wrapped in the hood of the mother's fur coat. In the most southern tribes the baby was merely bound to the mother's back by a strip of cloth long enough to hold it.

A Crawling Fish.

A Brazilian fish called the maltha cannot swim. It can only crawl or walk or hop. It has a long, upturned snout and resembles a toad. The anterior fins of the maltha are quite small and are not able to act on the water. They only move backward and forward and are in reality thin paws, which are of no service for swimming.

Courtesy Always Pays.

A man may fight fiercely to hold his own in business; but he does not need to fight to get ahead of someone in the elevator, or up the car steps, or at the post office window. And no matter how strong competition is, business and personal courtesy make it easier and pleasanter for everybody.—William H. Hamby.

SALVATION ARMY

Campaign Now on to Relieve Distress of Worth Poor.

The Salvation Army is conducting a Home Service campaign from May 1 to May 10. The collecting starts today.

Captain and Mrs. Sweet with their staff of workers, Mrs. L. Walthers and two cadets, Blanche Peters and Bertha McCartney will begin their task of soliciting relief money for Circleville poor.

Will Use the Envelope System

A small envelope will be left at the door over night one day called for the next. The collectors will also carry pledge cards so if you have not the means on hand to assist in this charity drive, make a pledge payable any time during the year. Remember every cent you give will be used exclusively in Circleville, for the people who prove to be after a rigid investigation, worthy of help. I do not need to introduce the Salvation Army as I believe every true loyal American in Circleville not only know them but will assist them all they possibly can for the benefit of all mankind and the upbuilding of God's kingdom.

Ties Given "Turkish Bath"

Railway construction engineers have found that railway ties, even when air-dried for a considerable time, still contain 15 per cent or more moisture, and therefore are susceptible to decay, since bacterial growth requires moisture. In recent experiments an effort has been made to drive out moisture by using the same process that nature does, and dissolve, neutralize and wash out the sap and other liquids which obstruct and close the pores. Warm air saturated with moisture is circulated among the ties. This opens and cleans the pores of the wood just as a Turkish bath does the pores of a man. The saps and resins filling the vesicles themselves, expand with the heat and force their way out, to be diluted and carried away by the warm vapor. After some hours of this treatment, the amount of moisture in the lumber is reduced by very slow degrees, until, at the end, it is practically dry, and the wood is removed from the kiln with not more than 5 per cent of moisture left in it. Lumber so treated, engineers assert, is immune to decay as long as it is kept dry. So the ties, after their Turkish bath, are given a waterproof coating by dipping into a hot bath of heavy asphalt.

Would They Stay?

"Who's in that henhouse?" shouted the irate owner, as, hearing a noise in the night, he rushed out and aimed a shotgun at the door. "Speak, or I'll shoot!"

"Ain't nobuddy in here," responded a faint and trembling voice from the inside. "Ain't nobuddy, sah, 'ceptin' just us chickens!"—Exchange.

HERRICK REFRIGERATORS

The Big Difference In Refrigerators
The main object of any refrigerator, of course, is the preservation of foods. The refrigerator that will keep foods in perfect condition longest is naturally the refrigerator you want—provided it dosen't increase your ice bills.
The Herrick answers those requirements with facts—not claims. And it does even more. It actually decreases your ice bills while giving you more effective food preservation.
And why? Simply because the Herrick is far more than an ice box—far more than a cold storage place. It is built on the scientifically demonstrated principle that more than merely cold air is necessary to keep foods in good condition for any great length of time.
Perhaps the biggest essentials to scientifically correct refrigeration are—
No. 1. Circulation of cold dry air.
No. 2. Effective Insulation.
No. 3. Air-tight construction.
That the Herrick has these necessary essentials is a demonstrated fact.
Many proofs of the truth are visible even to the least informed purchaser. Others are hidden within the walls of the refrigerator, but nevertheless there, performing their functions so important to good health and economy.

Face Line Shown by Chic New Hats

Designers Would Place Eyes in Mid-Distance From Crown to Chin.

Masters in the schools of fine arts in hats, insisting meticulously in classic Greek proportions, place the eyes in the mid-distance from crown to chin, declaring that there should be about as much above the eyes as below. Fashion artists disregarding this whim, notes a fashion writer in the New York Herald, frequently reduce the portion above to the point of absurdity. Perhaps they mean to stress the point that beauty and brains are not consistent. At any rate they discount a sense of humor entirely in connection with a well-dressed woman so that if one's proportions do not meet the approval of the millinery means are found to obscure the fact.

Fortunately there is some diversity of opinion as to the height of the crown, and still more as to the width of the brim. Not every one gets the same impression even from the same collection of hats. One prejudiced in favor of skull-tight hats remembers these vividly and the other person sees only that some of the brims are wide enough to shade the eyes.

However, one rule prevails in all cases. The crown must encircle the head closely and the hair must not add more than a fraction of an inch to this dimension. The close-cropped head that the Parisian affects is, of course, the reason for this, for it, above all things, demands that the back of the hat leave no space between hat and hair.

What one insists on first in a hat is that it complete the silhouette successfully; then one demands that it be smart; that it be becoming is something that one only hopes for after the first two requirements are fulfilled.

For many occasions, and for the younger set in particular, the small hat continues in popularity. Its advantages are so obviously suited to the occupations of the day and the evening that this is not surprising. One motors in a small hat certainly more comfortably than with a brim large enough to catch the wind. It also has its advantages when dancing in a restaurant or place where one keeps on her headgear.

If the small hat is to enlarge its proportions at all, obviously the only way it can be done comfortably is by growing taller; this in some cases has been done without detriment to its smartness and practical uses.

The wide-brimmed hat finds its advocates among the older women, who are finding that it completes one of the soft afternoon dresses in lingerie or lace more suitably than the smaller type. A small, close hat has a doubted smartness even with this sort of a costume, but is best left to the younger woman, although they also are found to like the variety that the wider brim gives occasionally. This tendency, which was evident last year in the warm, sunny months, is apt to be repeated with increased force this coming season.

Taffeta Crown, Leghorn Brim, for Summer Days

This large hat of staw is an advance model for summer. The crown is of taffeta and the brim is of the large leghorn type, the winsome combination being trimmed with large pink and gray roses.

Show Odd Silhouette in Egyptian Modes

There is a new silhouette for evening which is more daring than it is becoming. It recalls vaguely the Egyptian mode of last season, for it is concentrated in the center front where the skirt is caught together, raised to the normal waistline and allowed to hang in loose, blousing folds at the back, very much as if a hand had caught hold of a generous part of the skirt in the center front and fixed it at that point.

The gown for evening has all sorts of appendages—the full floating back tunics of Jenny, the narrow ribbon pennants of Lanvin, the tulle ruffles of Callot and the many panels with which Chanel frequently trims her robes du soir.

With High Luster

The vogue for black satin that has a particularly high luster has been emphasized to a marked degree in frocks strikingly smart in line that reveal a number of interesting style points. For street wear in the late spring they are expected to prove strong rivals of the boyish tailleur that is so remarkably appealing in its youthful charm.

No Machines on This

Of all American industries, that of making maple sugar is one of the most fascinating. Certainly none other has retained so great a measure of dependence upon the skill of the individual. It boasts many traditions. In a machine age it has found machines inadequate. It has never been and never will be a large-scale industry. In the quality of its product and largely in the methods of its marketing it is a personal proposition.—Nature Magazine.

Origin of Term "Dun"

Opinion differs as to the origin of the term "dun," used for a missive seeking to collect money. Some maintain it is derived from the French word "donnez," meaning "give," but others claim it comes from the name of Joe Dun, famous as a bailiff in the time of Henry VII, for having collected so many debts. It is said that in those days when a man refused to pay it became a saying, "Why don't you Dun him?"

Tolerance

It is great wisdom not to be rash in what we do, not to maintain too obstinately our own opinion. It is also wisdom not to believe everything that men say, not presently to pour into the ears of others things which we have heard or believed. Take counsel with a wise and conscientious man, and seek rather to be instructed by one that is better to follow thine own inventions.—Thos. A. Kemphis.

DREAMERS.

All that is new will be old some day,
And you will look back on the long, long way,
You will look wistfully back and say:
"Ah, it was different yesterday."
You will not speak of tomorrow then.
You will gossip with other old men,
And youth will be cruel as you were when
You laughed at the ways of older men.

For your new thing is the old, old thing
That youth is always discovering,
"So we do this." The children bring
Year after year the same old thing.

"The world is hollow and wrong," you say.
"Rotten with errors of yesterday,
We have come to show you our new way,"
That's what the young men always say.

But the world has never been changed it seems,
Tho every generation dreams
And hammers away at the same old themes.
The plan is never as good as it seems

The stubborn human heart returns
Steadfastly to its own concerns.
Little it changes, little it learns.
To itself and its own the heart returns.

Only a martyr, now and then,
Dies for the good of other men.
And lets us dream of an hour when
There shall be no more little men.

All that is old has been old so long!
It has been told in story and song,
The old, old story of sorrow and wrong
That should not have been allowed so long.

And over the young men's promising
And jests that the weary, old men fling,
The scoffing and disillusioning,
Is the hope to which we always cling.

"Some day the world will be better," we say.
"Our children will find some higher way;
Men will be honest and kind some day"—
That's what our wise men always say.

EPHRAIM MOWERY

Died at Home on Washington Street—Funeral Services Monday.

Ephraim S. Mowery died at his home, 216 North Washington street, at 1:30 o'clock this morning. His death was due to complications.

He had been ill nearly four months of rheumatism and only recently returned from taking the waters at Magnetic Springs. Specialists from Columbus diagnosed his illness, but were unable to arrive at a conclusion. The trouble was located in his spine.

The deceased was born in Tarlton, October 1, 1866, and was the son of Charles and Margaret Schwin Mowery.

He married Miss Mary Dotter, April 25, 1920, who survives. He was a carpenter by occupation but for a number of years assisted Roy McMullen in the plumbing business. He was considered a most excellent workman.

Mr. Mowery was a member of the Circleville Athletic club.

Of his immediate family he is survived by three brothers. They are G. E. Mowery, of Lancaster; John W. Mowery, of Columbus and Harvey Mowery, of Tarlton.

The funeral services will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Joseph's church. Rev. Father J. S. Hannan will officiate. Interment in St. Joseph's cemetery.

The pallbearers will be the three brothers of the deceased; G. E., John W. and Harvey A. Mowery and Roy McMullen, Charles Brannan and Al Clendennen.

"I am amazed at a great many of my old frends saying that the old Scotch Sabbath was a burden. Home of the Circus.

A school teacher was reading an exciting story to her group of youngsters about the jungle. In order that each child might understand clearly what the story was about, she said: "Which one of you can tell me what the jungle is?" One bright little boy waved his hand in the air and the teacher told him to give his definition. He stood up before the class with a great deal of importance and said: "The jungle is where the circus lives."

WILL OBSERVE MOTHERS' DAY

Churches Are Requested to Make This a Real Peace Day.

Pageant to Bring Back the Spirit of Childhood to Those Who Have Not Forgotten—Schools Asked to Observe May 18 and 19.

May 11th is Mothers' day. The following is a resolution adopted at the mid-year meeting of the Ohio W. C. T. W.:

Resolution on Mothers' Day to be Observed As Peace Day.

Whereas, the leading nations, including the United States, are engaged in intensive preparations for "The Next War" each nation vieing with the others to produce the most death dealing and destructive implements of warfare; and whereas:

We recognize the influence and power of womanhood and the transcendent power of motherhood —We, the white ribbon women of Ohio adopt the following resolution, suggested by Mrs. E. W. Mathews of Columbus:

Resolved, That we will observe Mothers' day, the second Sunday in May, as Peace day and we extend a cordial invitation to all organizations and to all peace-loving people to cooperate with us in thus observing the day.

We are asking churches especially, to make this day a real Peace day. Ministers of all denominations should be asked to preach on peace at this time. The World Federation of Education associations are asking the schools of all nations to observe May 18 and 19 as World Goodwill day. May 18 is the date of the opening of Hague conference in 1899. Since May 18th comes on Sunday this year, Monday, the 19th, will be observed by the schools.

The Woman's Council for prevention of war, of which Judge Florence E. Allen is honorary chairman, will hold in Cleveland, a peace parade on International Goodwill day, Sunday, May 18th. Girl Scouts, Girl Reserves and the Camp Fire Girls ,have been added to the membership of this council.

Hazel MacKays has written a pageant of children, for children—one which brings back the spirit of childhood to men and women who have not forgotten. This pageant is called "Goodwill, the Magician." Thru Goodwill, the rulers of the earth have called to do away with war. Children from ten countries are brought to play and dance and sing together, and to become fast friends. Printed copies of this pageant are now ready for distribution at 10 cents each. You can use from fifty to five hundred children. It takes an hour for presentation. Order these pageants from the National Welfare association, 70 Fifth avenue, New York. You will have to order soon if your schools are to have it for May 19th.

Ethel Blair Jordan, in the Junior Red Cross News, says:

"In hearts too young for enmity
There lies the way to make men free;
When children's friendships are world wide,
New ages will be glorified.
Let child love child, and strife will cease,
Disarm the hearts, for that is peace."

The Methodist Episcopal Council of Churches met recently in Pittsburgh and drafted the following resolution on war, to be presented at the General conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in Springfield, Massachusetts, in May, 1924:

"That we declare our sincere repentance for past ignorance of, or lack of faith in, Christ's ideals and methods of righting wrong and that we memorialize the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church meeting in Springfield, Massachusetts, in May, 1924, to declare for an unalterable opposition on the part of our church to the entire war system—economic exploitation, imperialism and militarism; to call upon the government to cooperate with other nations in organizations looking toward world peace; to inform the government that our Church Can Take No Part in Any Movement Toward War, but that we dedicate anew our life and resources to the building of a world brotherhood wherein the principles of the Sermon on the Mount shall be practiced."

If the fire of this Christ-idea sweeps with cleansing force thru the churches of the world in every land Peace will become less a dream and more a reality.

Some Consolation.

I was giving an evening party. One of the men was unable to come, but his wife came alone. I meant to convey to her that I was glad she had come, even though her husband could not, but what I said was, "I'm glad you came without your husband, anyway."—Chicago Tribune.

THE SON SETS

Clucking Rooster Hopes to be Mother of Brood of Chicks.

Well, this is to be a banner year in the raising of chickens and, not to be mistaken, Homer Bowers will win most of the blue ribbons. He even "sets" the roosters in his barnyard flock and hopes to get a full hatch as the result.

Mr. Bowers, who takes a pride in increasing his poultry flock at his home northeast of town each year, while working among his brood hens recently found a "clucking" rooster that had occupied one of the nests and showed all signs of wanting to become the "mother" of a brood of chicks. He crowded the hens from their nests of eggs, and, when given a baby chick to test his sincerity, coddled it and claimed it for his very own. He was also given the time test of five days and here he also "proved up."

Immediately, he was given a full "setting" of eggs and the results are anxiously awatied by the entire countryside.—New Holland Leader.

His Prescription.

His father has a pronounced partiality for Bill, and the latter is diplomat enough to work this feeling of his father's whenever an opportunity offers. Quite recently young William injured his hand severely, and when his father returned home he inquired: "Well, Bill, how's the hand?" Seeing his father was in a mellow mood, William answered: "I think some ice cream would help it."

SOCIAL CALENDAR

A farewell party was given in honor of Harold Crose by his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McManamy at their home on North Court street. Mr. Crose is leaving soon for his home in Indiana. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Griner and son, Ned, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Miller and daughter, Margaret Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Goldsberry, Mr. Earl Cassidy, Mr. Harold Hott, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bauman and son, Raymond, Miss Lorraine Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. McClarren, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, Mr. Fred Wiggins, Mr. Harold Crose and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh MacManamy. The evening was very pleasantly spent with cards, games and music and refreshments. Prizes were won by Mrs. Ed. McClarren, Mrs. Ray Baumann and Mr. Charles Miller.

Good Guess.

Apple was among the first words on which the class had been well drilled. One day when Betty's attention was elsewhere the word ape was introduced. In the drill which followed "ape" was Betty's word. She looked at it somewhat puzzled, then smiled at her teacher and said: "Half apple."—Chicago American.

SMITH SHOWS GAINS

Has 160 Votes Pledged For the Democratic Nomination.

Washington, May 2.—Governor Al Smith of New York now has 160 votes pledged to him for the Democratic presidential nomination, according to tabulations here. He moved to the front toward the end of April as the outstanding Democratic candidate, while William G. McAdoo suffered a serious blow in reverses in Massachusetts and Ohio. While Smith's friends say that former Governor Cox will be likely to swing Ohio's 52 votes to Smith, some of Cox's friends have a reverse idea—they say Smith eventually will swing to Cox. Smth is the only Democratic candidate to show much progress during the past month.

President Coolidge now has a total of delegates variously estimated at from 825 to 860, depending on the estimater. Only 556 votes are needed to nominate.

Rockefeller's Gift to Y. W. C. A. Announced at Convention.

New York, May 2.—At the annual convention of the Young Women's Christian association here it was announced that John D. Rockefeller, through the Laura Spellman Rockefeller fund of the Rockefeller foundation, had contributed $1,000,000 to cover the entire accumulated liability of a proposed secretarial retirement fund. The gift may reach $2,000,000, according to Mrs. Lewis H. Lapham, a member of the national board, who made the announcement. All secretaries of the association are eligible to benefit by the retirement fund and it is expected by the national board that at least 4,000 will take advantage of it, Mrs. Lapham asserted. It was announced also that the year 1930 will be set aside by the Y. W. C. A. as national endowment year, an in that year the $10,000,000 endowment fund started in 1920 will be raised.

Alleged Irregularities in Leases.

Washington, May 2.—Apparent irregularities in leases in naval reserves made by former Secretary of the Interior Fall were disclosed before the senate oil committee. E. C. Pinney, assistant secretary of the the interior, said that Fall apparently had made leases of lands to the Honolulu Oil company in violation of law and without executive approval as required by law.

HERE AND THERE

Thorndike Hilton, 21, son of Henry N. Hilton, Chicago publisher, was drowned at sea. He was a passenger on the liner Orduna.

Explosion of a one-pound shell tossed into a ring where a group of boys were playing marbles at Camden, N. J., sent three boys to the hospital. Two were seriously injured. The shell was thought to be an antique.

Escape of 32 prisoners was prevented at Newport, Ky., jail when officers found steel saws and weapons concealed in the first tier. Two men held on murder charges are among the lot.

KILLED BY TRUCK

Edward Goldrick Killed When Big Machine Passed Over Body.

Edward Goldrick, a blacksmith living just below Adelphi, was run over by a truck this morning on the Laurelville pike near Leistville opposite the Gill farm and died from the effects of injuries about half an hour after the accident.

The injured man was brought to this city by Omer Neff who happened to come up to the scene just after the accident occurred. The injured man was still gasping when he was placed in Mr. Neff's car and he was brought to Dr. H. C. Allen's office, but expired before he was taken from the machine.

The story of the accident is that the dead man was riding on a truck in charge of Charles Johnson and Lemuel Huston. This truck was pulling a Ford touring car which was disabled. Goldrick's job was to stand on the end of the truck and tell the driver of the truck when the engine of the Ford started. He told the truck driver, and just as the truck started forward to cross the covered bridge over Scippo creek, Goldrick lost his foothold and fell to the road. The truck passed over his body at his chest and his back was broken.

The remains were taken to the Albaugh undertaking parlors where they will wait the arrival of the dead man's wife. The deceased is about sixty years of age.

Justice E. C. Friece, as acting coroner, viewed the body and will hold an inquest.

Dempsey to Meet Wills.

New York, May 2.—Tex Rickard announced he had matched Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills for a world's heavyweight championship fight at Boyles' Thirty Acres, Jersey City, on Sept. 6. So far as Wills is concerned the match is contingent upon a victory over either Quintin Romero, Chilean heavyweight, or Erminio Spalla, Italian holder of the European heavyweight title, some time in June at the Jersey bowl, Rickard said.

She Knew Sheep

A young city woman went out to teach a country school. The class in arithmetic was before her. She said: "Now, children, if there are ten sheep on one side of a wall and one jumps over, how many sheep will be left?"

Then up piped a little tow-headed daughter of a farmer:

"No sheep, teacher; no sheep."

"Oh! oh!" cried the young city woman reproachfully. "You are not so stupid as that! Think again. If there were ten sheep on one side of the wall and one sheep jumped over, nine sheep would be left. Don't you see that?"

"No! no! no!" persisted the child. "If one sheep jumped over all the others would jump after. My father keeps sheep."

Then, seeing the puzzled look on the teacher's face, the little tow-head explained apologetically: "You know 'rithmetic, but I know sheep."—Charleston News.

Interesting Book

A Berkeley coed was asked by her English instructor what she had been reading during her summer vacation. After a visible, desperate effort to awaken a recalcitrant memory, she said: "Why, ah, now, I've read a fine book called 'Edgar Allan,' by Poe."

AT THE COURT HOUSE

Sues For Divorce.

Mary Tanner has filed a suit for divorce from Simon Peter Merrill in the court of common pleas. The parties were married at Derby February 26, 1921. The groom was 70 and the bride 65 and both had been married before. Mrs. Merrill was the widow of Isaac Tanner. In her petition the plaintiff charges the defendant with gross neglect and extreme cruelty. She asks for both temporary and permanent alimony and that the defendan be barried from any interests in her property at Derby, and asks that a temporary restraining order be issued against the defendant. An order was issued by Judge Curtain. Barton Walters represents the plaintiff.

Wanted to Feel Safe.

Little Adam was staying at a neighbor's home during the illness of his mother. The neighbor lady knowing Adam's fondness for jelly had some for supper one evening. All during the meal he watched his jelly. As he was about to eat it he said: "Oh, Lord, be near me while I eat this nervous stuff."

Desired Result Achieved.

Hazel had disobeyed her mother, who had chided her for it, without any apparent effect. The fact that she had done wrong worked upon the girl's conscience, evidently, for she went up to her mother and said humbly; "Please don't scold any longer, mamma, 'cause I feel bad enough about it now."

Tears Benefit the Eyes.

The Italian child is never permitted to rub its eyes. If it bursts into tears it is not repressed, but permitted to have the cry out. This, it is claimed, beautifies the eyes and makes them clear, while rubbing the eyes injures them in many ways.

Vanilla From the Orchid.

Ask an average man whether he has ever tasted the fruit of an orchid, and the chances are that he will reply that he has not. But he has at least, if he eats ice cream and cake. From which statement it may be inferred that the fruit alluded to is not eaten like an apple, peach or pear but is consumed in the form of a flavoring extract. Precisely, and it is an extract that is one of the most widely known and generally used in the world—vanilla.—Exchange.

Effect of Frost on Apples and Spuds.

Certain varieties of apples are not appreciably injured by being frozen if the frost is drawn out gradually. Apples will carry safely in a refrigerator car while the mercury is registering fully 20 degrees below zero. Potatoes being so largely composed of water, are easily frozen. Once touched by frost they are ruined.

Woman Witness Gets Lawyer All Tangled Up

The lawyer for the defense was conducting a cross-examination. The witness was a woman, and in reply to the first two or three questions she always qualified with "They say," or "I've heard," until the lawyer cautioned her:

"Now, madam, hearsay testimony is not acceptable in this court. If you cannot answer a question from your own personal knowledge, then you cannot answer it at all. We do not want to find out what you have heard about the case, but what you actually know at first hand."

Then the lawyer continued with the preliminary questions.

"You live here in Curryvale, I believe?"

"Yes, sir."

"How long have you lived here?"

"About five years."

"Where did you live before that?"

"At Stockton."

"Where before that?"

"I have lived only in the two towns—Stockton and Curryvale."

"Ah! So you were born in Stockton. When were you born?"

The witness was silent.

"I say, when were you born?" the lawyer repeated.

"I can't answer the question," the witness replied.

"But you must answer! When were you born?"

"But I can't," the witness insisted. "All I know about the matter of my birth is mere hearsay, and you just said I couldn't give that kind of information!"

World Has Many Lepers.

Neither geography, climate, diet, heredity nor any other known influence sufficiently explains the cause, the distribution or the behavior of leprosy. There is no discovered certain cure for it, and the cases of complete recovery, if there have been such, are rare. To most Americans it is happily only a name made familiar by Biblical mention or by reports of missionaries to far-off lands; and the estimate that there are 2,000,000 of these hopeless sufferers in the world comes to many people as a surprise.—Rochester Post-Express.

Pressure of Steam

Modern steam boiler practice is catching up with pure science. Some engineers may have remembered at high school or college learning something of what is called the "critical temperature" or "critical pressure" of a gas, the former being the temperature above which the gas might not be condensed at any pressure, and the latter being the pressure when the critical temperature was attained. All this was considered "pure science" or "high-brow stuff" with no application to practical affairs. But the critical temperature and critical pressure of steam are only 706 degrees Fahrenheit and 3,200 pounds a square inch, and boilers are now being used at pressures of more than 1,000 pounds with the tendency toward higher and higher pressures. Many interesting things happen to both water and steam when near the critical point and now practical engineers are beginning to take keen interest in what was formerly thought fit only for laboratory discussion.

Intemperance a Danger.

As love and self respect are the pillars of the house life, so intemperance is the certain destroyer of the home, attacking as it does the very fabric upon which it rests. Very many people imagine temperance refers to abstinence from, or moderation in drinking spirituous liquors, beer or narcotic drugs. But it is possible to be intemperate in words and actions.—Exchange.

Earliest Patriotic Song

The earliest patriotic song in America which L. C. Elson has been able to unearth is a "liberty song" advertised in the Boston Chronicle of October 16, 1763. Mrs. Marcy Warren, wife of Gen. James Warren of Plymouth, Mass., wrote the words. The tune was Boyces "Hearts of Oak." Mrs. Warren began the old American custom of setting patriotic verses to an English melody. "Yankee Doodle" antedated this song, but, says Mr. Elson, not as an American patriotic work, for originally it was a song in derision of the Americans. The Americans admired the tune, even though it was used against them. Early in our national career Americans appropriated the tune of "God Save the King." As early as 1779 the melody was adapted to American use, a set of patriotic verses having been written to it and published in the "Pennsylvania Pack." An "Ode for the Fourth of July" was written to the same tune, and became very popular. During the last quarter of the Eighteenth century "Washington's March" was the leading instrumental work of the American repertoire.

First Europeans in Panama

The first Europeans to visit the Isthmus of Panama were those who, under the leadership of Rodrigo de Bastides, sailed from Cadiz in October, 1500. Vasco Nunez de Balboa was among them. The records of this expedition are meager, but it is known that they picked up the mainland of South America near Trinidad and coasted westward past the Gulf of Darien and along the Isthmus as far as Nombre de Dios.

The letters of "Lettera Rarissima di Cristoforo Colombo," an Italian version of a dispatch from the great discoverer to Ferdinand and Isabella contains the earliest account of the isthmus in existence. He wrote this letter while shipwrecked on the coast of Jamaica at the end of his fourth and last voyage to the Indies.—Detroit News.

Professor E. J. Christie of Marion, Iowa, inventor of a gyroscopic unicycle, which he hoped could attain a speed of 250 miles an hour, committed suicide in a hotel at Camden, New Jersey.

Tons of Food Served at Feasts in Olden Times

Menus of olden times, when kings and robber knights served tons of food and wine to their castle party guests during feasts which sometimes went on for weeks, have been appearing recently in German newspapers, which marvel at the capacities to eat and drink of individuals living 300 or 400 years ago.

An example of a feast at the court of Hanover in the Sixteenth century, when thirteen different meat dishes were served, has been published recently. The menu, compiled from old court records, follows:

First section—Two kinds of wine soups, baked singing birds, meat pie, venison, mutton breast, wild pork, veal, roast chicken, boiled beef, two kinds of fish, vegetables and wine. Second section—Lobster, trout, carp, pickled meats, lamb chops, roast deer, young roast pig, ox feet, artichoke, fig cake, dessert, wine and brandies. In those days it is claimed that even in the homes of persons of the middle class the dinner usually consisted of six courses, each course constituting seven to nine different dishes.—Detroit News.

Bulletin Discusses Diseases of Potato

Problems of Interest and Concern to All Growers.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The presence of various diseases of potatoes affecting both the plant and the tuber constitutes a problem of great interest and concern to all growers. Investigations and studies made by the United States Department of Agriculture have in a large measure resulted in the development of methods for controlling these diseases to a great extent, with a saving of money and time. Although present methods are by no means perfect, yet in spite of their distinct limitations, when properly applied, they afford an effective means of raising better crops and of preventing their subsequent spoilage in cellars, in warehouses and in transit.

The brief description of each of the important potato-tuber diseases with reference to the most practical measures of control is given in a new bulletin just issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, as Farmers' Bulletin 1367, Control of Potato-Tuber Diseases. The measures for the control of the various diseases, says the author of the bulletin, should be in strict conformity with the nature of the trouble and its cause. Therefore a clear conception of the peculiar characteristics of each disease is necessary for its successful combat.

The bulletin seeks to present this information in such a way that the grower and the dealer may be able to understand the various troubles and prevent them if possible or to seek the assistance of a specialist whenever troubles become perplexing or go beyond the possibilities of first-aid measures.

A copy of the bulletin may be secured, as long as the supply lasts, from the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington.

Early Seeding Advised for Big Yield of Oats

Early seeding of oats is the first essential, says the United States Department of Agriculture, for maximum yields. In most sections oats should be sown as early as it is possible to get on the land to prepare a seed bed. This crop develops best in cool weather and frequently is injured by a few hot days during the ripening period. For this reason early seeding is practically always advisable.

The date of seeding largely depends on the locality and the season. In the corn belt the best time usually is during the latter part of March or early April. In the more northern oat sections seeding wheat usually is not possible until late April. In backward and unfavorable seasons the seeding may have to be delayed until early May.

Where oats follow corn, potatoes, or other cultivated crops, the land should not be plowed as a rule, but should be disked and harrowed sufficiently to make a loose, friable seed bed about three inches deep. Spring plowing usually results in a less satisfactory seed bed, as there is not sufficient time for the soil to become well settled before seeding. Further, spring plowing is more expensive, and thus adds to the cost of production.

Combine Corn and Wheat for Flock of Chickens

While the war was on and wheat was high-priced and scarce, corn became the main grain for poultry feeding. Now "the shoe is on the other foot." In many cases it is cheaper and better nowadays to feed wheat.

Corn and wheat are really about equal in poultry feeding value, although wheat can be fed alone better than corn because the latter is more fattening. Best results are obtained when wheat and corn are combined about equally in egg-laying rations, along with other needed elements furnished by oats (sprouted or whole), ground bone or meat scraps, vegetables and green stuff.

Farm Hints

Rotten apples and poor sires go together.

* * *

Sweet clover, especially while young, cannot stand much shade.

* * *

Moth balls distributed in the runway of moles are effective in driving them away.

* * *

Alfalfa raises the value of the soil that grows it and reduces the feed bill of the animal that eats it.

* * *

Price statistics indicate that it takes about as much money to equip a farm today as it did to buy the farm 20 years ago.

* * *

In sections suited to its growth, Sudan grass yields from two to four cuttings of one to two tons each, and the hay is of excellent quality.

* * *

Buy the best in eggs and chicks even if the first cost does seem a little high. You will have more pride in your flock than if a mixture of breeds and weak stock is installed on your farm.

Gran'pa says: "I always took the most care with my vegetable garden, because I was more sure of eating some of the things that grew there than I was of getting a profit from the other crops."

INJURED YOUTHS

Pennsylvania Aids in Rehabilitatisn of Men Who Are Disabled.

A report of the Pennsylvania bureau of rehabilitation says that in one month in 1923, more than fifty persons unable to obtain employment on account of injury, registered with the State bureau. In the same month the bureau found suitable positions for thirty-three disabled persons and furnished ten with artificial appliances which enabled them to resume gainful employment. The bureau now has more than 4000 names of disabled persons upon its rolls.

A young pressman whose right hand was mangled four years ago in a printing plant successfully finished a course last spring in one of the Pennsylvania normal schools and is now a teacher in a public school.

An Italian boy lost his etnire right arm in 1919. Both of his parents were illiterate. With the bureau's encouragement and assistance he completed a high school course. He graduated last year near the head of his class and is at present in college.

Two other young registrants each of whom had lost a hand, completed their high school courses. One is now preparing for a legal career and the other is being educated at church expense for the ministry.

A youth whose left hand was amputated took with the bureau's help a three years' course in mechanical drafting in a State industrial school, while another youth who had lost his left hand is now in the second year of a mechanical engineering course in a western Pennsylvania technical institution.—Thrift Magazine.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Yankee Consul," with Douglas MacLean as the star, had its first local presentation yesterday at the Metropolitan theater and those who saw it declared it the funniest picture the comedian has yet offered to screen fans.

MacLean is a natural funmaker and creates almost continuous laughter by his characterization of a role that is not only unusual but offers ample opportunities for the star to do some of the best work of his career.

There is plenty of romance to make the picture all the more delightful for the buoyant Patsy Ruth Miller lends charming support with a capable cast that comprises some of the best known names in filmdom.

MacLean always goes in for thrills and laughs to the urge of hysteria and in this exciting version of "The Yankee Consul" he has given the screen one of the funniest comedies of the season.

"The Yankee Consul" tells of the strange experience that befalls a young man of great wealth when he discovers himself far out at sea, without any ticket, no funds and only the credentials and passage papers of the consul to a South American station in his possession.

When a young lady seems in great peril and needs just the kind of help that he can give, he decides upon a quick thought to impersonate the Yankee Consul. The boat lands him in Rio, where he comes face to face with a wild series of adventures.

Thrills and laughter alternates as the plot thickens. Finally in desperation, when everything seems too dark for further words, the girl in greater trouble than ever and a lot of gold in danger of being stolen from the consulate ,the pseudo-consul sends an SOS to the United States navy.

All ends well, with some new and novel climaxes worked up by the star and director. Miss Miller is a fascinating heroine and others in the cast who did excellent work are Arthur Stuart Hull, Stanhope Wheatcroft, Eulalie Jenson, George Periolat, Fred Kelsey, L. C. Shumway, Eric Mayne, Gerald Pring and Bert Hadley. James W. Horne, who directed "The Hottentot," was the director of this corking MacLean comedy.

No one, who enjoys a good hearty laugh, should miss seeing "The Yankee Consul."

STRUCK BY AUTO.

Miss Reah Hanley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hanley, who are tenants on the Stein farm on the Ringgold pike, was knocked down by the auto driven by O. F. Heffner at the corner of Court and Pinkney streets Wednesday afternoon. She escaped with some light bruises and is getting along nicely. Dr. H. D. Jackson is attending to her injuries.

GOOD STORES.

A woman who lives in Columbus, was a caller at this office Thursday and in the course of her remarks said that your dry goods stores here carry a swell line of merchandise, as good as stores carry in my home town, and the prices asked are very reasonable.

MAYOR ALLEN ASSAULTED.

Mayor Rell G. Allen, of Washington C. H., had his face punched by L. W. Maag, an irate citizen in an altercation on the court house lawn near the Midland National bank, Thursday afternoon. The fracas, so Mayor Allen says, was occasioned by orders to Mr. Maag to have his premises cleaned up.

Mr. Maag's story is that he asked the mayor by what authority a ditch was being constructed across his, Maag's, premises. The mayor's eyes were blackened and his face cut. Mr. Maag's countenance does not show any blemishes. Nn charges have been filed against Mr. Maag and the matter will be probably dropped.

CLEARED.

The First division of the Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist Episcopal church cleared $486.50 in markets in the last three months.

CAMPAIGN HEADQUARTERS.

The campaign headquarters of the Salvation Army will be located in the office of the chamber of commerce and Red Cross on the second floor of the Masonic temple.

"The Store That Treats You Right"

Men Like to Know the Price

Take for example, a beautiful full page ad in the Saturday Evening Post showing a smart swanky five passenger-Coupe---

The copy clearly describes the brakes and the bearings---the power and the prettiness. It tells you that here is an engine that makes mountains look like mole hills---and here are springs that turn mud roads into a king's highway!

It gets you all euthused---and then it gets your goat by omitting the most important thing---the PRICE.

This store thinks that a clothing advertisement without a price is like delivering a Decoration Day speech without mentioning the Flag.

We cheerfully print our prices in our publi-city---there is nothing about them to keep under cover or to scare you away.
